Our Strategic Priorities

Working with diverse partners across BC's clinical research community, Clinical Trials BC is focused on four strategic priorities:

- Business development – We attract new investment from networks, associations and industry partners by promoting BC's clinical trials capacity, technology platforms, and expertise;
- Capacity development and training – We increase province-wide capacity for conducting high-quality clinical trials that meet strict ethical and regulatory standards;
- Enabling environment – We support clinical trials excellence, efficiency, effectiveness, innovation, and value for all stakeholders by advancing practices and processes;
- Patient/participant experience – We optimize British Columbians' participation in clinical trials by helping to remove barriers and enhance the participant experience.
